

Advocate Mpotlana Daniel Madiba

Advocate Mpotlana Daniel Madiba joined the South African Medical Association in May 2008 as an Industrial Relations Advisor. He got promoted in 2011 to become the Head of the Organising and Bargaining Unit, a post he holds to date. In this post he is responsible for, among other roles, leading and coordinating the strategic direction of the SAMA in relation to collective bargaining through advancing the socio economic interests of SAMA members. In 2012/2013 he acted as SAMA Head of the Public Sector Department for 10 months.

He obtained his LLB degree in 2004 from Wits University, followed by a Postgraduate Diploma in Labour Law (Cum Laude) in 2009 from the University of Johannesburg. In 2011 he obtained a Certificate in Management, and is currently pursuing a Certificate Programme in Labour Dispute Resolution through the University Of Cape Town School Of Mercantile Law.